NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2016

The financial statements are for Engineering Aid Australia as an individual entity, incorporated and domiciled in Australia. Engineering Aid Australia is a company limited by guarantee.

Engineering Aid Australia was incorporated 28 April 2009. The financial statements have been prepared to cover the year ended 30 June 2016.

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Preparation

The financial statements are special purpose financial statements that have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards (including Australian Accounting Interpretations) and the NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991, the NSW Charitable Fundraising Regulations 2015, the WA Charitable Collections Act (1946) and the WA Charitable Collections Regulations (1947) and the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012. The financial statements are not required to be lodged with the ACNC relating to the financial year 2016 as the entity is classified as a small charity per the ACNC Australian government guidelines, however, management has elected to do so.

Australian Accounting Standards set out accounting policies that the AASB has concluded would result in financial statements containing relevant and reliable information about transactions, events and conditions. Material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are presented below and have been consistently applied unless otherwise stated.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historical costs, modified, where applicable, by the measurement at fair value of selected non-current assets, financial assets and financial liabilities. The financial statements are prepared on a going concern assumptions.

The financial report is presented in Australian dollars.

The disclosure requirements of Accounting Standards and other financial reporting requirements in Australia do not have mandatory applicability to Engineering Aid Australia because it is not a 'reporting entity'. The entity is not a reporting entity because in the opinion of the directors there are unlikely to exist users of the financial report who are unable to command the preparation of reports tailored so as to satisfy specifically all of their information needs. However, management have prepared the financial report in accordance with Accounting Standards and other mandatory financial reporting requirements in Australia. Disclosure requirements have not been adopted with the exception of the following:

AASB 101: Presentation of Financial Statements

AASB 107: Statement of Cash Flows

AASB 108: Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors

AASB 1031: Materiality

AASB 1048: Interpretation and Application of Standards

AASB 1054: Australian Additional Disclosures

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2016

Accounting Policies

a. Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to Engineering Aid Australia (EAA) and the revenue can be reliably measured. The following specific recognition criteria must also be met before revenue is recognised:

- (i) Cash contributions received or receivable are recognised as revenue when:
 - a. EAA obtains control of the contribution or the right to receive contribution
 - b. It is probable that the economic benefits comprising the contribution will flow to EAA, and
 - c. The amount of the contribution can be measured reliably.

Income is measured at the fair value of the contributions received or receivable.

- (ii) Income arising from the contribution of assets or services (gifts in kind) is recognised when all the following conditions have been satisfied:
 - a. EAA obtains control of the contribution or the right to receive the contribution;
 - b. It is probable that the economic benefits comprising the contribution will flow to EAA; and
 - c. The amount of the contribution can be measured reliably.

Income is measured at the fair value of the contributions received or receivable.

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest rate method, which for floating rate financial assets is the rate inherent in the instrument.

Refer note 1 (c) for information regarding revenue recognised relating to GST input tax credit refunds.

b. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at-call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts.

c. Tax

No provision for income tax has been raised, as the entity is exempt from income tax under Div 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

Other taxes

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST except:

- (i) Where the GST incurred on a purchase of goods and services is not recoverable from the taxation authority, in which case the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item as applicable; and
- (ii) Receivables and payables are stated with the amount of GST included.

The entity was registered for GST during the financial year, and during the year claimed past years and current year input tax credits (refer notes 2 and 4).

d. Trade and Other Payables

Trade and other payables represent the liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period for goods and services received by the company during the reporting period, which remain unpaid. The balance is recognised as a current liability with the amounts normally paid within 30 days of recognition of the liability.

e. Trade and Other Receivables

Trade and other receivables comprise Donations receivable and GST receivable. Donations receivable are recognised and carried at original invoice amount. The carrying amount of the trade and other receivables is deemed to reflect fair value.

f. Economic Dependence

Engineering Aid Australia is reliant upon donations from its sponsors for the majority of its revenue to conduct its activities. Ongoing activities will be commensurate with revenue raised and the amount of cash reserves available.

g. Adoption of New and Revised Accounting Standards

During the current year the entity adopted all of the new and revised Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations applicable to its operations, which became mandatory.

Independent auditor's report to the members of Engineering Aid Australia

Report on the financial report

We have audited the accompanying financial report of Engineering Aid Australia, which comprises the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2016, the statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information, and the directors' declaration.

Directors' responsibility for the financial report

The directors of the entity are responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission Act 2012 and for such internal controls as the directors determine are necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Those standards require that we comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal controls relevant to the entity's preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal controls. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Independence

In conducting our audit we have complied with the independence requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission Act 2012. We have given to the directors of the company a written Auditor's Independence Declaration, a copy of which is included in the directors' report.

Opinion

In our opinion:

- a. the financial report of Engineering Aid Australia is in accordance with the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission Act 2012, including:
 - i. giving a true and fair view of the entity's financial position as at 30 June 2016 and of its financial performance and cash flows for the year ended on that date; and
 - ii. complying with Australian Accounting Standards and the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission Regulation 2013.

Basis of accounting

Without modifying our opinion, we draw attention to Note 1 to the financial report, which describes the basis of accounting. The financial report has been prepared for the purpose of fulfilling the directors' financial reporting responsibilities under the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission Act 2012. As a result, the financial report may not be suitable for another purpose.

Report on the requirements of the NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991 and the NSW Charitable Fundraising Regulations 2015 and the requirements of the WA Charitable Collections Act (1946) and the WA Charitable Collections Regulations (1947)

We have audited the financial report as required by Section 24(2) of the NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991 and the WA Charitable Collections Act (1946). Our procedures included obtaining an understanding of the internal control structure for fundraising appeal activities and examination, on a test basis, of evidence supporting compliance with the accounting and associated record keeping requirements for fundraising appeal activities pursuant to the NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991 and the NSW Charitable Fundraising Regulations 2015 and the WA Charitable Collections Act (1946) and the WA Charitable Collections Regulations (1947).

Because of the inherent limitations of any assurance engagement, it is possible that fraud, error or non compliance may occur and not be detected. An audit is not designed to detect all instances of non compliance with the requirements described in the above-mentioned Acts and Regulations as an audit is not performed continuously throughout the period and the audit procedures performed in respect of compliance with these requirements are undertaken on a test basis. The audit opinion expressed in this report has been formed on the above basis.

In our opinion:

- a) the financial report of Engineering Aid Australia has been properly drawn up and associated records have been properly kept during the financial year ended 30 June 2016, in all material respects, in accordance with:
 - iii. sections 20(1), 22(1-2), 24(1-3) of the NSW Charitable Fundraising Act 1991;
 - iv. sections 10(6) and 11 of the NSW Charitable Fundraising Regulations 2015;

Building a better
working world

- v. the WA Charitable Collections Act (1946); and
 - vi. the WA Charitable Collections Regulations (1947).
- b) the money received as a result of fundraising appeals conducted by the entity during the financial year ended 30 June 2016 has been properly accounted for and applied, in all material respects, in accordance with the above mentioned Acts and Regulations.
